Terrific Detonation Draws Crowds to Scene of Catastrophe

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12.—Paulhan, in his new Farman machine, made the greatest and most thrilling flight yet made here when he sailed 800 feet into the air to meet the balloon New York which had left Aero Park, near Los Angeles, early in the day and at 2 o'clock was approaching Aviation Camp on a favorable current.

Choosing the moment when Lincoln Beachy and Roy Knabenshue in dirigibles had sailed over the grand stand and started for the point where the balloon New York was riding in the air, Paulhan sprang into the air and rising in a wide circle to a height of 800 feet, sailed a mile or more over the adjacent fields and the fringe of trees that lines the camp on the north until he had approached close enough to talk with the passengers in the big balloon and pay his respects to Beachy and Knabenshue.

Leaving the balloons far behind in his return flight, Paulhan sailed to the grand stand and alighted.

WILL TRY AGAIN. It was the first time that an air machine over the rough ground outside the field, over the houses and trees, that had been seen in his daring flight, brought the people to their feet in wild applause.

The balloon New York, piloted by Clifford B. Harmon, of New York, its owner, and containing six other persons, was brought down on the aviation field at 2:30 p. m. after a flight of eight miles from Aero Park near Los Angeles.

While the great gas bag was approaching the earth, Paulhan in his second flight which began at 2:25 sailed around and over the balloon unexpectedly, and then, at 2:30 p. m., passed directly over the heads of the people.

SEES WIFE IN BALLOON. Among the passengers in the Harmon balloon were Nat Goodwin, the comedian, and Mrs. Paulhan, wife of the French aviator. As Paulhan sailed high above them, he saw in the air the balloon which he had just seen in his first flight, and he saw in the air the balloon which he had just seen in his first flight.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12.—The balloon which ascended from Aero Park in Los Angeles during the forenoon, is making an attempt to effect a landing in aviation camp. At 1 p. m. it was six miles distant and being carried directly toward the camp.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12.—Three balloons, the New York, Florida and the Ferris, were released at Huntington Park during the forenoon, and will be assisted by Captain Slater, back of Company A, California National Guard.

Whether the attempt will be made on Monday next to sail over the waters of San Pedro harbor in the army balloon, has not yet been definitely decided.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 12.—Under a radiant sky with not a fleck of cloud to be seen, and with a mild breeze blowing out of the east bearing with it just a tinge of winter that it had gathered from the snowy peaks of Sierra Nevada, the aviators who have come from far and near to fly in the great California air gathered at Aviation camp early today and speculated upon the probable achievements of the afternoon.

WILL TRY AGAIN. Louis Paulhan, the irresistible French "bird man," could hardly be restrained from going into the air when first the sun peeped over the intervening valley in the east, bathing the intervening valley in a golden glory and made the slopes of the aviation field glisten.

Paulhan said, in his impressive way, late yesterday that he would surely try today for the world's altitude record, and when he came to the field at sunrise and found the conditions so perfect and his Farman biplane all tined up and ready for flight, the impulse to soar at once came strong upon him.

SANCTIONS PRIZE LIST. It was announced today that Cortland Field Bishop, president of the Aero Club of America, had sanctioned, as the official representative of that organization, the following list of prizes, to be competed for today.

ALAMEDA, Jan. 12.—An explosion at the Alameda Rug Works at 3001 Everett street, shortly after 9 o'clock this morning terribly burned Jessie Ferreira and Christina Gomez, two young Portuguese girls who were spinning near the air tight stove that exploded engulfing them in a shroud of flames that carried the flesh on their bodies. As a result of the explosion which was caused by gas forming in the stove, the two girls were burned in agony at the White Cross Hospital. More than one-third of the flesh on her body is charred and it was stated this morning that she would probably die.

GIRLS AT WORK. The explosion was heard for blocks around the rug and carpet works and crowds gathered on the scene. The two Portuguese girls, whose ages are about 14 and 16 years, were seated near the stove working on the rug when the explosion occurred. The flames swept across the small space between their positions and the stove and before assistants reached them, the girls had run out of the room and into the yard, their clothes in flames.

The stove is used for heating water for manufacturing purposes. It is of iron size, with water pipes running through it. All the glass windows in the building were shattered by the loud explosion and pieces of the ceiling fell on the employees. Boards in the wall were split by the concussion. An alarm was turned in which called the chemical engine of the fire department to the scene, but the blaze that the explosion occasioned was extinguished by the employees.

Sixteen men and about five girls are employed at the rug works, which are owned by J. A. Osterdock of this city. The factory has been located at the foot of Everett street for about four years.

OTHER EMPLOYEES NEAR. The stove that exploded was in a long and narrow room used for spinning and weaving purposes. Other employees were in the room at the time of the explosion, but they were at a distance from the stove and escaped without injury. The Gomez girl was burned about the legs and arms, but her burns are not so serious or extensive as those of her companion. Both have been employed at the factory for about six months.

The Ferreira girl was hurled to the White Cross Hospital in a wagon owned by the rug works. She lives in Fruitvale with her parents. The other injured girl was taken to her home across the Fruitvale bridge.

VICTIMS BLANKETED. Burning fire brands from the stove struck several of the other employees, but they were quickly brushed off and caused little injury. The explosion caused a dense black smoke and both of the victims were blanketed beyond recognition.

The damage to the building in which the explosion occurred amounts to several hundred dollars. Osterdock, the owner, is at a loss to explain the cause of the explosion and said that it must have been caused by the formation of gas in the stove.

Salt Water System Is Accepted by Board

The distributing system connected with the salt water plant was accepted today by the Board of Public Works. City Engineer Luther Rogers, who had the contract let for the plant, had not come up to the specifications, but he thought in time they would work.

In order to provide against their failure to do so he suggested that the company putting in the plant should put up an indemnity bond of $500 to install new pipes and to guarantee that they would keep in order for five years. This they agreed to do.

James T. Flynn was appointed by the Board as trustee of police code No. 2.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—The obsequies of Mrs. M. J. Dingee, mother of Mrs. William J. Dingee, took place Monday. The services at the funeral were very impressive. Rev. Dr. Leighton Park officiating. The interment in the family vault took place today.

CLUBMEN ARE ACCUSED OF CROOKED DEAL

Proprietors of Pacific Pigment Company Made Defendants in Warrants

CHARGED WITH FALSELY OBTAINING MONEY

Bohemian Club Members in Roles of Accused and Complainant

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—Three prominent members of the Bohemian club, all of whom are well known in local society, figure in what is likely to be a sensational court proceeding, as the result of warrants sworn to this morning, charging the obtaining of money under false pretences.

That there will be a flutter in club and social circles when the facts are made public is certain, and if the allegations in the complaint are accurate revelations of a somewhat startling character are likely to be brought out.

Walter J. Wavie and Charles P. Greenwood, proprietors of the Pacific Pigment company, are the defendants, and William H. Ford, who has been for years a friend of the two first mentioned, and who became intimate with them through fellow membership in San Francisco's exclusive club, swears to the complaint.

$9500 INVOLVED.

Attorney Louis Ward has been retained to protect Ford's interests in the matter and he is authority for the statement that Wavie and Greenwood obtained in all $9500 from Ford. The specific complaint, however, sets forth the obtaining of $2000 on August 11. Ford alleges that Wavie and Greenwood represented to him that the plant of the Pacific Pigment company, if enlarged by the money advanced by him, would be able to turn out at its Alameda county factory 250 tons a month of whitening oil of 250 tons of lime.

DENIES ALLEGATION. Also, the complaint avers, it was represented to Ford that the concern was making a profit of $1000 a month. In contradiction of these facts, the complaint maintains that the plant was able only to produce fifty tons of whitening oil of 250 tons of lime, and has been running at a loss of $1000 a month.

According to Ford, he was to have received a share in the proceeds for his advancing of money to the concern. Ford is a contractor, residing at 1008 Larkin street, and is well known in this community.

Father Murders Baby Daughter; Mob Makes Threats of Lynching

MOJAVE, Cal., January 12.—Charles Kuhn, said to be an engineer on a switch engine here, shot and killed his 2-year-old daughter when the two were alone in a room at a lodging house early this morning.

A woman ran out of the house carrying the bleeding child to the nearest drug store, where it died in a few minutes. When arrested Kuhn was intoxicated and violently resisted the officers. It was necessary to throw him down in the street and iron him.

Public feeling is strong and threats of lynching are heard. No cause for the shooting was learned.

Henry S. Graves Named to Succeed Gifford Pinchot

WASHINGTON, January 12.—President Taft this afternoon decided to appoint Henry S. Graves, head of the Yale School of Forestry, as chief of the Forestry Bureau to succeed Gifford Pinchot.

Automobile Agent, Wanted By the Police, Is Located

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12.—Ralph J. Leavitt, the local automobile agent, said to be wanted by the police for manslaughter in Seattle and for passing a bogus check in San Francisco, arrived at a local hotel today. When shown a dispatch stating that he was wanted in the northern city, Leavitt denied being a fugitive from justice, saying that the Seattle charge was a mere technicality and that he would start for the north at once, and meet the charges.

Strong Fight Made for Greater Oakland Harbor

Congressman Knowland has been requested by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce in this city to ask the board of engineers in charge of the rivers and harbors to delay the time of hearing in the matter of the appropriation for additional dredging along the Estuaries.

Large expenditures by private owners along the harbor front during the past year, which have not been shown in Lieutenant Colonel Biddle's annual report, have been forwarded to Washington, together with added data which has been collected since the refusal of the appropriation.

The forthcoming report of Biddle will be made.

WOMAN HOLDS POLICE AT BAY WITH SHOTGUN

Fair "Squatter" Defends Her "Property" Until She Is Disarmed

FIRES GUN INTO AIR AS OFFICIALS CLOSE IN

Last Stand of the Alameda Ark Dwellers Is Made by Mrs. Mary Cox

ALAMEDA, Jan. 12.—With a shotgun in her hand Mrs. Mary Cox defied Chief of Police John Conrad, Detective Wasmuth, Policemen Keyes and Jaques and City Superintendent of Streets V. M. Frodden to trespass on her property in the east end of the city this morning, and was only disarmed after she had made good her threat to shoot by firing the gun off into the air. She made a desperate struggle and resisted arrest by exerting all her strength to release herself from the grip of two policemen.

The action of the woman is the aftermath of that of J. Pierson, who claims to own property at the foot of Briggs avenue and who kept the employees of the Hutchinson Company off the place yesterday at the point of the rifle.

Crowds witnessed the gun play of the "squatters" today, and Mrs. Cox was cheered, as she stood in her doorway with a loaded shotgun pointed at the police. The Hutchinson company tore down the fence of Pierson's place, and the police, who have been given notice to vacate the place, claim they claim by "squatters" privilege.

INVOKES THE UNITED STATES. Pierson kept in the background today, and did not exhibit the rifle that he handled yesterday, and which he kept the working force at bay. He appeared on the scene of the battle today with a loaded shotgun pointed at the police. The Hutchinson company tore down the fence of Pierson's place, and the police, who have been given notice to vacate the place, claim they claim by "squatters" privilege.

Pierson is the son of the late Daniel Kearney and D. C. Taylor, owners of the property claimed by him. He is expected to be in the city for a few days.

When Pierson stood guard over his alleged property yesterday with a rifle, it was the opinion of the police and City Attorney M. W. Simpson that no interference could be made by the city, but that he was in led.

When Pierson stood guard over his alleged property yesterday with a rifle, it was the opinion of the police and City Attorney M. W. Simpson that no interference could be made by the city, but that he was in led.

Deputy Sheriff Lindquist Probably Fatally Wounded in Hold-Up

BRAVELY ATTEMPTS TO FOIL SALOON ROBBERY

Thug Escapes After Running Battle With Proprietor and Injured Man

In a daring attempt to knock a loaded revolver from the upraised hand of a lone bandit who, entering Moore's roadhouse on San Pablo avenue near Albany at 1:30 last night, forced the proprietor, A. Moore, to throw up his hands, Deputy Sheriff A. W. Lindquist was shot, perhaps fatally.

The bandit entered the saloon by the front doors just as Moore was preparing to close the place. Unaware of the deputy sheriff's presence he drew a loaded gun, forcing Moore, who was behind the bar, to throw up his hands. Lindquist, realizing his friend's danger and the necessity for immediate action, struck at the thug with an umbrella he was carrying.

Cringing with pain and angered by the unexpected opposition the robber whirled like a flash, took deliberate aim and fired. As he ran out the door a second shot rang out and Lindquist, with the blood gushing from two wounds, fell senseless to the floor.

Moore, snatching a revolver from a small drawer back of the bar, ran to the door in an attempt to intercept the bandit. A third shot rang out and almost blinded by splintering glass as the bullet whizzed through the door from the outside, Moore fell back, firing a return shot, however, which landed in a second pane of glass on the opposite side.

The Berkeley police were hastily summoned by telephone, but before their arrival the highwayman had escaped.

When picked up Lindquist was breathing heavily, and was immediately rushed to the Rossvelt Hospital, where an examination showed him to be suffering from a severe wound in the abdomen. The wound was located in the right shoulder. During the day he has failed to rally as the doctors hoped and, weak with the loss of blood, his recovery is a matter of grave question. Deputy Sheriff Sweeney has been detailed on the case.

WOMAN PARADES IN UNIFORM OF A NATTY SAILOR

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—Swaying jauntily along the street, with the side-to-side movement and the swagger air so characteristic of the man-of-war-woman, Miss Frances Smith, defying the conventionalities and garbed in male attire, sought to successfully pass muster with a trio of stalwart policemen at 4 a. m. today.

The parading was the scene of the parade, and was accompanied by Miss Mary Barker, who hung affectionately to the arm of the supposed sailor, and who passed the officers with heads high in the air.

"What do you think of that white uniform?" asked Patrolman Mantion of Ogden and Clark, who stood beside him.

"Looks like it ought to have skirts instead of trousers," replied Ogden.

"Let's trail it along," added Clark, and a moment later the fair Miss Smith found her arm held in the grip of a blue coat. There was an electric light near by, and a rat in the hair of the supposed sailor did the rest.

"What do you mean by dressing up in man's clothes?" inquired Mantion.

"Just did it for a joke," was the only answer he received, and, with tears streaming down her cheeks, Miss Smith was sent in a patrol wagon, charged with a masquerading in male attire.

CLUBWOMEN WAGE WAR AGAINST 'TOUGH' DANCES

'Slow Rag,' 'Turkey Trot' and 'Bunny Hug' Must Go, Is Ultimatum of the California Club

The "slow rag," "lover's two step," "bunny hug," "turkey trot," and "walk back" dances often seen in nickel dance halls, were the subject of a scathing report issued by the California Club of San Francisco, which has for some time been conducting a campaign against these places, and a public communication has been issued which will be placed before all the San Francisco legislators and Improvement bodies by a committee of clubwomen appointed for the purpose.

In addition to their objections to the dances affected by the patrons of nickel dance halls, the club women base another dread against the dance halls on the fact that young girls are at present allowed to frequent these places in spite of the effect such dancing has on their morals. The laws governing these places forbid minors to enter the halls, but, according to the club women, this law is made almost a farce by the amendment that minors may enter if attended. The club women claim that the police are lax in enforcing laws regarding the places, and recommend that other bodies take up the matter with the view of getting legislation, which will do away with the evil.

CONDEMN 'TOUGH' DANCES.

Following is the report of the club women in full.

The attention of the California club has been directed to the widespread fusion of certain forms of dancing, and its contribution to delinquency of minor children. After investigation, our committee has reported that conditions in this regard challenge the immediate and serious consideration of parents and teachers.

We respectfully invite the co-operation of school principals, teachers, and civic and religious organizations with a view to effect the suppression of all "tough" dancing. We feel that once the public conscience is aroused to the gravity of the situation, means will be adopted whereby all dancing of this character will be prohibited.

We have ascertained by our investigation that these dances, commonly designated as the "slow rag," "lover's two step," "bunny hug," "turkey trot" and "walk back," are in reality, modified varieties and conventional adaptations of a dance which had its origin in houses of prostitution, whence it spread first to the dives and tenderloin dance halls and thence to the 5-cent public dance halls and other of the cheaper dance houses where it differentiated into the above named varieties.

DANCED EVERYWHERE.

This dance has so spread that it is now danced at all but the most select dances, although of course in its more or less modified forms; but it does not, in the process of modification, lose one whit of its disreputable identity and demoralizing influence.

It is indulged in even on our public streets, in many instances with as much sensuous abandon as is tolerated in the lowest dance halls and on such occasions as these it is witnessed and picked up by school children.

In the public dance halls it has been danced with such a degree of obscenity as to have rendered necessary the order forbidding admission to those under 18 years of age. Although children under 18 years of age are now barred from these halls, they are now barred from the order having been prompted by a recognition of the corruption exerted by the dance halls upon the morals of the young.

CHILDREN ENCOURAGED.

Since it may be the credulity of the uninformed to believe that a large number of school children have picked up this dance, and are familiar with its several varieties, we have only to refer to the fact that before the order barring minors from these places was issued, and even now are admitted if attended.

It is not sufficient here, in referring to the dance, to merely designate it as immoral or indecent or "tough," nor is it enough to indicate it by the names it is known by, since the uninformed will at once identify it with round dancing. It is distinctly not round dancing, or round dancing in which the participants stand too close together.

DANGEROUS FEATURES.

In order that parents and teachers may be apprised of the character and influence of this dance, so that they will be able to recognize it even in its modified forms, we think it necessary to define it specifically. What particularly distinguishes this dance is the motion of the body. This is the feature of the dance which renders it dangerous to the moral nature of those who have learned it.

It should be explained to the skeptics that the milder forms of this dance, the "slow rag," "lover's two step," the "bunny hug," the combined two step and walk back and the sublimated turkey trot, which are characteristic of the "tough" dancing, are in reality, modified varieties of the "tough" dancing, and are in fact, the same dance in different forms.

In fact, so common is this procedure that it may be said to almost be characteristic of the dance. Hence, the absurdity of the argument that some of the "tough" dances are milder than others. As long as they dance it in its modified variety it won't hurt them. It is the milder form of the dance that is being taught to the children. The positions and movements of the dance, no matter how slight they may be, are dangerous.

WILESS FIGHT.

Some time ago a fight was made against the dance halls. Monitors were hired by the proprietors to stand and watch as well as to those who might attempt it that they must not dance in too indecent a manner. The proprietors were compelled to erect signs forbidding the admission of boys and girls under 18 years of age. The result of this some and elaborate measures into adopting a modified form of this dance, and this was evolved the "lover's two step," the "bunny hug," the combined two step and walk back, and the moderated turkey trot.

Matters have not improved much as a result of police restrictions, for whereas, before restraining orders went into effect, respectable people, upon beholding in disgust, then now often remain in curiosity and the dance, concealed in its eucletic guise, is taught to and picked up by the unsuspecting.

We urge the importance of recognizing the distinction between legitimate dancing and this "tough" dancing, which, strictly speaking, is not dancing at all, but a series of indecent antics to the tune of music. It would be as unfair to condemn the art of dancing because of the intrusion of this variety as it would be to condemn the drama because of such plays as "The Girl From Rector's."

FINDS HUSBAND HAS TWO WIVES

Number Two Secures Annulment and Promises Gifts to Former Spouse

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—A hearing was begun before Judge Chetlain in the Circuit Court yesterday to annul the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram A. Mentch of Chicago.

Two days ago Mrs. Mentch discovered that her husband had an insane wife, from whom he had not been divorced, living in an asylum. She has been a patient for 15 years. Even Mentch's three children had been led by their father to believe that their mother was dead. Mrs. Mentch testified. Four years ago she eloped with Mentch and they were married at Santa Rosa, Cal.

OTHER COMPLICATIONS.

To add to the complications, Mentch has three children by his first marriage, one of whom, a daughter, is married to A. Steyforth, a brother of his second wife.

At the conclusion of the hearing Judge Chetlain instructed Attorney William Chones, representing the complainant, to prepare a decree.

Mrs. Mentch admitted she still loved her husband, and that they were living in the same house on friendly terms although having ceased their relations as husband and wife. He is 50 years old and she is 37.

"Are you going to live with him after you get this divorce?" asked Judge Chetlain.

"No, sir," was the answer. "Where is he going to live?"

"He's going away to make a new home for himself. I promised him a team of horses and a wagon."

SEMBRICH SALE OPENS TOMORROW MORNING

The sale of seats for the Sembrich concert will open tomorrow morning in 9 a. m., at the box office of Ye Liberty playhouse, at which theater the great event will take place next Tuesday afternoon, January 18, at 8:15.

From all reports, the artist is in better voice than ever, and the enthusiasm at her opening concert in San Francisco last Sunday afternoon knew no bounds. Both of her assistants, Mr. Rogers, the baritone, and Mr. Frank La Forge, pianist, shared in the honors.

The program selected for the Oakland concert is an excellent one, and the "diva" will sing no less than fourteen numbers.

Prices will range from $2.50 down to $1, and a long line of purchasers is expected, for this will be Sembrich's first appearance on this side of the bay since her arrival here. Singers of her ability are heard but seldom in a life time.

As there are about 2000 seats in the splendid playhouse, there will be plenty for all who attend to the matter without too much delay.

SAYS DAUGHTERS CAUSE TROUBLE

Husband Doesn't Want Divorce, Only Seeks Removal of Children

Instead of his being guilty of extreme cruelty towards his wife, as alleged in Grace M. Mummaugh's complaint for a divorce from Charles Mummaugh, filed in the Superior Court, the husband states in his answer that the two grown daughters of his wife by a former marriage had been largely responsible for their marital troubles.

Mummaugh says that his stepdaughter Madge has been particularly active in stirring up strife in his home, in that she has constantly suggested to him and his wife that they should get a divorce, and has caused most of the trouble between him and his wife. He says that on one occasion Madge gathered up his clothing and threw it out upon the back steps with the remark that he should need not think that he was going to feather his nest in that house, and then tried to drive him away.

REFUSED ADMITTANCE.

After he and his wife separated, Mummaugh says, he called upon her one day and was refused admittance to the house by Madge, who told him his wife did not want to see him. He replied, "That is what you say. You said before that she was out of town and that it was none of my business, now, suppose she says she wants to see me, some other man, wouldn't it be some of my business?" To which Madge made no reply.

Mummaugh declared that with Madge and the other daughter eliminated he and his wife could live together in peace and happiness. He does not want a divorce. All he is seeking is to get rid of the daughters; then he believes he can fix up all the differences which exist between him and Mrs. Mummaugh.

THUG WHO STABBED MAN IN CUSTODY

SAN JOSE, Jan. 12.—Joachim Higuera, an ex-convict, was arrested yesterday upon a charge of robbery, preferred by George Hillier, a Berkeley contractor who was waylaid, beaten, stabbed and robbed in Pleasanton street in this city Sunday night. Hillier is not fatally injured. After the robbery Higuera fled in a rig which he rented from a lively stable and which was driven by 18-year-old Abel Rodriguez, the daughter of a friend. He was captured at Evergreen.

YOUNGER SONS IN MALIGNANT RAGE

Rudolph and Gus Spreckels Give Public Another Characteristic Exhibition

(From S. F. Call Jan. 12, 1910.)
A fury of rage and malignancy seems to have seized Rudolph and Gus Spreckels upon reading the calm and dignified statement prepared by and published yesterday for John D. and Adolph B. Spreckels. That statement explained briefly and temperately that the elder sons of Claus Spreckels had been restrained from contesting their father's will only by regard for their mother, whom such an action would have drawn into a long and distressing legal battle. Though they fully believed that such a contest could have been successfully maintained, the attorneys for John D. and Adolph B. Spreckels declared in their statement that they were willing to respect the father's will and to leave their mother, whom they honored no less than their father, in such a struggle, no matter how great and grievous the sense of wrong they must smother in abandoning the contest.

Last night Rudolph and Gus Spreckels personally signed and sent to the Call and to most of the other newspapers of San Francisco a rejoinder that is in marked contrast to the statement made on behalf of the brothers. The characteristic malice of this rejoinder is about what the people of the community have learned to expect from this source. It is so obvious that there is no need to point out wherein it lies.

The rejoinder in its entirety reads: It has never been our practice to discuss the press matters ordinarily of only family interest, but the publication in today's papers of a statement by John D. Spreckels and Adolph B. Spreckels, regarding the will of the late Claus Spreckels, demands a reply in justice to him and to our mother.

There were absolutely no grounds upon which a successful contest of the will could be maintained. If there were it is most improbable that any consideration for their mother would have prevented it. In view of the fact that since our father's death neither John D. nor Adolph B. Spreckels has ever relied upon or communicated with her.

Our advance to the late Claus Spreckels and Adolph B. Spreckels property of greater value by millions of dollars than the combined value of all the property he gave to his widow and all his other children. Any sense of wrong that they may feel under the circumstances is as false as the honor they claim to have extended to their father as their neglect of their mother. Their declarations of consideration for her.

BURLINGTON OFFICIALS HOLD A SESSION

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—The midwinter meeting of passenger agents and operating officials of the Burlington road was held here yesterday.

The greater portion of the meeting, attended by more than 100 officials, was devoted to plans for inducing immigration of farmers to the far west, where the road is forming settlements, new towns and industries.

D. C. Deaver, head of the land department, made a report of conditions which he said were better than for many previous years.

FIRE AT NEWPORT.
NEWPORT, Ark., Jan. 12.—Fire originating in the drug store of Charles Ayers early today caused a loss of $16,000, partially covered by insurance.

peted for during the aviation meet, beginning with the events of this afternoon. The balloons were started at 2:30 p.m. and the race was on.

CUTS DOWN AMOUNTS.
In addition to this, Curtiss will receive $10,000 for his flights during the meet, and Paulhan and the members of his aviation syndicate, Miscarol and Masson, will receive $5,000.

KEEP PAULHAN DOWN.
Edmund Cleary, who manages the syndicate of French flyers who are here, during the brief times when his members are unmanageable, labored throughout the morning with Paulhan, and succeeded in keeping him down to earth.

CURTISS IS CAUTIOUS.
Glenn H. Curtiss, the silent aviator, at work also in the tent city where the airships are assembled when he learned that Paulhan was so eager to break the record.

WANTS TO FLY HIGH.
Charles K. Hamilton, the Connecticut aviator, who has been doing some sensational flights in America recently, was another man who was hard to hold down today.

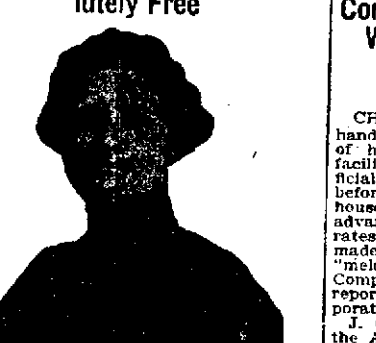

NEW STAR IN FIELD.
Before the first of the day's events was called it became apparent to those who had aviation camp that a new star had arisen in the aviation world—Clifford B. Harmon of New York. Harmon became an aviator yesterday. Previous to that time he was an aeronaut. In his first trip in an airship yesterday Glenn Curtiss and his mechanic, William J. Harman, were along. They were to get up 5,000 or 6,000 feet after which, but first we want to be sure of our engines.

MAKES TEST FLIGHT.
A flight was made by Miscarol in the Bleriot at 11:50. This was short and was made into the wind. The machine rose easily and after covering a distance of 100 yards alighted. Today he owned an aeroplane and manages a retinue of mechanics.

FIRST OF TRIPLANES.
From Phoenix has been brought the only triplane yet seen here. This machine was built by George Fowler of Phoenix who will attempt to fly it here. It is a triplane and will attempt a flight in his machine.

Good-By to Wrinkles
Scranton Lady Makes Remarkable Discovery That Makes Thin Faces Plump and Wrinkles Disappear as if by Magic.

Broad-Minded and Liberal, She Offers to Give Particulars to All Who Write Absolutely Free

Delta Ellison of Scranton, Pa., seems to be the woman whose name shall go down in history as the discoverer of the true secret of Beauty. For centuries past women have realized that wrinkles not only made them look much older than they were, but were also the destroyers of their beauty and with ceaseless efforts have sought to stay the hand of time, which robbed them of this most valuable charm.

Knowing that the honey woman with deep lines and furrows must fight an unequal battle with her younger and better looking sister, many resort to sneering and even dangerous experiments trying to stay the hand of time. This story shows that she is both broad-minded and generous, and all who wish to banish their wrinkles and improve their complexion should write her at once.

Answer This Question

When shown positive and reliable proof that a certain remedy had cured numerous cases of female ills, wouldn't any sensible woman conclude that the same remedy would also benefit her if suffering with the same trouble?

Here are two letters which prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Fitchville, Ohio.—"My daughter was all run down, suffered from pains in her side, head and limbs, and could walk but a short distance at a time. She came very near having nervous prostration, had begun to cough a good deal, and seemed melancholy by spells. She tried two doctors but got little help. Since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Blood Purifier and Liver Pills she has improved so much that she feels and looks like another girl."—Mrs. C. Cole, Fitchville, Ohio.

Irassburg, Vermont.—"I feel it my duty to a few words in praise of your medicine. When I began writing it I had been very sick with kidney and bladder troubles and nervous prostration. I am now taking the sixth bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and find myself improved. My friends who call to see me have noticed great change."—Mrs. A. H. Sanborn, Irassburg, Vermont.

We will pay a handsome reward to any person who will write to us that these letters are not genuine and truthful or that either of these women were paid in any way for testimonials, or that the letters are published without permission, or that the original letter from each did come to us entirely unsolicited.

at more proof can any one ask?

10 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to who will not try this famous medicine. Exclusively from roots and herbs, and hands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

HOUSE WILL NOT CONCUR IN SENATE CHANGES

Amendments to Pinchot-Balinger Resolution Are Rejected After Debate

DECIDE TO ASK FOR CONFERENCE ON SUBJECT

Bennett-Sabath White Slave Bill Is Passed by a Viva Voce Vote

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The House today refused to concur in the Senate amendments to the Pinchot-Balinger resolution and decided to ask for a conference.

The Speaker named the following conferees: Representative Balinger of Pennsylvania, Senator of Iowa and Fitzgerald of New York.

SENATE AGREES.

When the bill of the House was reported to the Senate, it agreed to the conference. Senators Nelson, Mark of Wyoming and McNary were named as conferees.

The bill granting statehood to Arizona and New Mexico was considered in the House today by the committee on territories and practically completed. It will be reported to the House probably within a day or two. The committee is unanimous for the measure.

By a viva voce vote the House today passed the Bennett-Sabath "White Slave" bill.

The "white slave" bill is the result of an investigation of the traffic in alien women made by the National Immigration Commission. Provision is made for the deportation and exclusion of immoral aliens and for the exclusion and punishment of their procurers. Traffic in immoral women becomes subject to the restrictions of interstate commerce laws. Immigration laws are amended so as to exclude persons who are supported by or who receive proceeds from the prostitution of aliens and provision is made for the criminal prosecution of persons who shall harbor aliens for the purpose of prostitution.

LIABLE TO DEPORTATION.

Any alien inmate of a house of prostitution and any alien who in any way assists such an inmate are made liable to deportation. The measure makes it a crime punishable by a fine of not more than $500 and imprisonment for not more than ten years for any person to procure a ticket for any person to go from one state to another to engage in prostitution.

Local Inventor Will Contest Claims of Famous Aeronauts

TAKES ISSUE WITH WRIGHT BROTHERS

John J. Montgomery Lays Claim to Inventions Used in Aeroplanes

John J. Montgomery of this city is now a conspicuous figure in the world's eye in consequence of the litigation brought by the Wright brothers against all other aeroplane inventions which are infringements upon their own.

Montgomery, as a result of his early experiments in the domain of aeronautics, was the first to evolve the principle which made the aeroplane practical and his patents which cover the application of the parabolic curve, surface curve, keel, rudder and tail to all air machines are essential to all devices.

These principles he set forth in his address at the world's aeronautic congress held at the Chicago fair and were then accepted by scientists as being the only practical solution of aerial navigation. His address setting forth his discoveries and the application of these factors to air machines became of public record and his inventions, though antedated in the patent office by the Wright brothers' claims, by some six months, he nevertheless by right of prior discovery takes precedence over the patents held by the Dayton inventors.

After Montgomery's address, the Wright aeroplanes were tried and proved unsuccessful as they wished to avoid the Oakland inventor's principles of aerial navigation and they used the straight line and without the parabolic curve, which they were afterwards compelled to adopt in order to perfect their device.

LOOK TO MONTGOMERY.

Now that the Wrights have come forth to enjoin all other inventions, the aeronautic world has turned to Montgomery to defeat the claims brought by the Dayton inventors, which it is claimed by the leading patent attorneys of Washington and New York he can do by virtue of his prior discoveries of the principles which the Wrights have utilized in their machines.

In their early success the Wright brothers gave credit for their achievements to the book published by the eminent French scientist, Octave Chanute, who gloriously subjected the principles which he sets forth in minute detail in the work to which the Wrights attribute their success.

Alexander Graham Bell, the famous electrician, said of the Montgomery discovery: "All subsequent attempts at aviation must begin with the Montgomery machine."

RECORDS SHOW DISCOVERIES.

The Montgomery discoveries include all forms of maintaining the equilibrium as well as aerial support outside of gaseous agencies that have been devised in navigating the air, and his discoveries were made public as his addresses show, and the records of Santa Clara College go to prove, were made long anterior to the application made for patents by the Wright brothers.

Montgomery's experiments were made in this city on Telegraph avenue and in his first street years ago when as a boy he attended St. Joseph's school here. He afterwards persevered in them during his college career and for the past years he has been a professor at Santa Clara College, where he has his main workshop.

His father, the late Zach Montgomery, was one of the leading attorneys of Oakland of the time gone by and his two brothers, James P., an attorney, and Richard J. Montgomery, the well known real estate dealer, are residents of this city.

WILL CONTEST CLAIMS.

Montgomery has been solicited by the New York Aero Club and other leading organizations to remove to the East and pursue his experiments in that part of the country, but he has steadfastly declined. He is, however, preparing to maintain his claims to priority of invention against the Wright patents and will, as he announced when leaving here yesterday for Santa Clara College, contest any claim that may be made to monopolize aerial invention.

FOOTPADS ARE GIVEN THREE YEAR SENTENCE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—Thomas Carter and Frank Lange, two footpads, who on October 29, 1908, held up Theodore Dedes, and robbed him of $1,000, each given three years in San Quentin by Superior Judge Dunne this morning.

Garfield H. Hough, accused of breaking into the store of Abby M. Parrott, Mission street, near Fourth, on November 24th, was given six months in the county jail for burglary in the second degree.

CHAMBER ELECTS REGULAR TICKET

Board of Directors Are Chosen For the Association of Business Men

The annual election of the board of directors of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, which was held yesterday, resulted as follows: H. C. Capwell, I. H. Clay, P. C. Frederickson, W. E. Gibson, Theodore Gier, William M. Gerdner, C. J. Henson, Abraham Jonas, Y. S. Kitchener, R. A. Lee, M. J. Laxman, F. A. Leach, Jr., Walter S. Mackay, Edwin Meese, B. P. Miller, O. F. Olson, George E. Pardee, George E. Randolph, E. C. Sessions, J. T. Tarral and C. M. Wood. There were seventy-seven votes cast out of a membership of 2000. There was no deviation from the regular ticket submitted by the nominating committee about twelve days ago.

The committee consisted of Fred Kahn, W. J. Lavigne, George S. Meredith, E. B. Bull and D. E. Perkins.

No antagonism existed at the election, and the names on the ticket carried. The names proposed by the nominating committee were well selected, and the members of the board represent the various concerns of this city. They are men who have the welfare of this community at heart and will boost this city in every way possible.

TO ELECT OFFICERS.

Next Tuesday evening the newly elected directors of the Chamber of Commerce will select officers for the year 1910. It is rumored that I. H. Clay, president of the Chamber, will be elected for re-election. Walter S. Mackay, first vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, is scheduled to be Clay's successor.

Mr. Mackay has worked zealously for the interests of the Chamber and his influence has been keenly felt in that organization. H. C. Capwell, second vice-president of the Chamber has also been spoken of for the position of president of that body. All three will make admirable leaders.

During the past year splendid work has been done in the way of boosting Oakland. Literature has been sent to the eastern cities in an effort to advertise the beauties of Alameda county. Among the notable achievements of the Chamber of Commerce was the carrying of the bond and annexation election. The directors, members and the sub-committee have labored hard, progress and prosperity committee, did much to secure the success of the election.

One of the important matters undertaken by the board was presented in the form of a resolution proposed at a meeting of the directors held last September favoring "home rule" in matters of county taxation and in favor of senate constitutional amendment No. 1, to be voted upon at the election of the State at a general election to be held in November, 1910, as for the best interests of property owners.

It was referred to the legislative committee. The proposition is for the State to secure its revenue from corporation taxes.

The directors during the past year also proposed to form an organization consisting of all the commercial bodies in the bay with a view of issuing and distributing literature about the associations representing San Francisco, Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin and San Mateo counties.

Mr. Smith is due to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce and the Chamber of Commerce is expected to be organized and published in this city. They have taken the initiative in all the movements which have had a tendency to better the social and commercial status of the county.

The new board will continue to boost Oakland and this country.

MOTT REFEREES A NEAR FIGHT

Stops What Might Have Been a Mill at Board of Public Works

Mayor Mott won his spurs as a prizefighter on the occasion that was offered this morning by the Board of Public Works, when Jake Pantowsky and Attorney W. H. L. Hynes were going to a hearing before the Board of Public Works to contest the award of the Free Market on Washington street, between Fifth and Sixth, while John Rohan, who stands for the awarding of the tenants, was represented at the hearing by Attorney Hynes. The latter took occasion to refer to the fact that the Free Market with its awnings and all forms of structure, which are features of the city which injured no one.

He took occasion to criticize Pantowsky's activity in the cause of the removal of the awnings and cynically sought to get Jake's ears of civic adornment by offering to the injured parties the members of the board a lot of photographs of houses owned by Pantowsky, which, he asserted, were occupied by dissolute women.

In a minute Pantowsky was on his feet and heading for Hynes. He shook his fist threateningly in the face of the attorney and the latter was squaring off to hand out a few himself. Rohan started to go to the assistance of his attorney and for the moment a mill was promised that would leave nothing but the hear, teeth and torn clothing of the contestants on the floor of the council chamber. Then it was that his honor himself into the fray and charged with his arms held every one at bay until time to adjourn.

The hearing of the protest was laid over for a week until ruffled tempers have been restored when the protest will be further considered. All parties to the argument went away threatening to meet on the outside, but no altercation has yet been reported and it is believed that the council has prevailed and that nothing will occur to defect from the Jeffries-Johnson fight as the main event.

Exonerated Attorney Faces Second Charge

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—Edmund Burke, who was found not guilty of an advertising himself as an attorney without being so, was placed on trial before Superior Judge Campbell today, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. It is alleged that he secured $30 from Barclay McCarty for the purpose of being used by the San Joaquin Abstract Company, whereas, it is asserted, he did not turn over the money to that concern. He is being represented by Attorney Carroll Cook, and the jury was secured for the trial during the morning session.

Articles of incorporation will be filed this month and immediately thereafter a large factory will be erected adjacent to ship and railroad facilities. Two sites are now under consideration.

Offers Reward for Finding of Brother

Writing to County Clerk Cook from Hill City, Kan., John L. Crank says that he is very desirous of knowing the whereabouts of his brother, Jesse Crank, dead or alive, who came to California from Clinton County, Mo., in 1852. About twelve years later, Crank wrote back to Missouri and since that time he has never been heard from by his Eastern relatives.

At that time he was mining at Hangtown and Conn Hollow, mining camps in the Sacramento Valley, and if still living he is about 89 years of age. John L. Crank says he will give a liberal reward for information that will lead to the discovery of his brother or divulge his fate and burial place if dead.

HARRIS TO RESIGN FROM BURLINGTON

Retiring President to Make
California His Future
Residence

DENVER, Jan. 12.—The Republican this morning, in announcing the prospective resignation of George E. Harris, within a few days, from the presidency of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, the Colorado & Southern and the Colorado Midland railroads, and the expected accession of Darius Miller, now first vice-president of the Burlington, will probably remain vacant for some time. H. E. Harris, recently promoted to the head of the operating department of the Burlington, as assistant to the first vice-president, will be assistant to the president, and in that capacity will have supervision over both operating and traffic departments. The resignation of Harris was expected by railroad men in the inner councils of the Burlington to follow closely the resignation of Daniel F. Willard, as second vice-president, to become president of the Baltimore & Ohio. Harris has desired to leave the Burlington for several years, but has retained office at the request of James J. Hill, in order literally to keep peace in the family. Miller and Willard, first and second vice-presidents, respectively, were not on the most friendly terms, and it is said that neither would work for the other to ease the other was promoted to succeed Harris, in the event of the latter's resignation. This situation has been relieved by Willard's going to the Eastern road. Mr. Harris now spends several months each year at Pasadena, Cal.

HANGS HIMSELF TO PRISON ROOF

Aged Contractor Ends His Life
With a Strip of His Blanket

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 12.—C. L. Kaymeyer, an aged contractor, hanged himself to the roof of his cell in the county jail this afternoon by making a noose out of his blanket. He was caught by the police last night after firing a shot at his wife, which barely missed her face. He threatened suicide at the time because he had broken his parole and knew he would be sentenced to the state's prison for two years. Despite his threats to end his life, the officers left him unguarded, and this afternoon, when he was called to come to court and he sentenced, it was found that he had improvised a gallows to cheat the courts of justice. Kaymeyer had a long record of family abuse to his name. The juvenile court had him in charge several times until Judge Hughes gave him the option of keeping sober and supporting his family or going to prison for two years. He remained free only a short time, when he tried to murder his wife. He drew a gun on the arresting officers, but they overpowered him.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 12.—Representatives of the Dominion Government are showing sympathy with the movement of the President Roosevelt, launched for a great international body to discuss and suggest a systematic policy for conservation of resources of the United States and Canada. The Dominion Government, appointed last summer, will hold its first conference in Ottawa next week. This assembly promises to be one of the most important held in Ottawa for many years, inasmuch as it will bring together probably the most important body of men ever assembled here.

STUMBLES OFF PIER, DROWNS DESPITE AID

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—While on his way to the steamer W. F. Porter in company with a companion, Stephen O'Hara, Fred Kenneally, 45 years old, a fishman, fell into the bay from the Union street pier. His head was drowned. Kenneally walked ahead of O'Hara in the darkness and stumbled off the pier. His companion cried for help and several sailors climbed down the pillars of the wharf and fished out the unfortunate man. He was conveyed to the Portico Emergency hospital, but despite every effort of Steward Cummings to resuscitate him, he died within a few moments.

Demonstration of the Malleable Steel Ranges

All steel ranges may look alike to you—but there's a difference, a big difference—Our Malleable Range is made from gray iron, which, after casting, is submitted to an annealing process, which burns out the carbon and other impurities that make cast iron practically an indestructible range.

Our Malleable Steel Ranges are lined throughout with asbestos millboard, placed between plates of Bluesville steel—front, back, sides and bottom are equally protected, thus keeping the heat where you want it and preventing the walls and floors from being scorched.

THE ECONOMICAL SHALLOW FIREBOX saves in a year or so the price a Malleable Range costs.—The Malleable Steel pin water back never gets out of order and gives hot water in half the time an ordinary water back will.

Every Convenience

such as high warming closets, an extra warming closet under the oven—drop doors.—Removable ash box and many other little points that every woman can appreciate are found in this range.

STEAM IS USED TO CHECK FLAMES

Fire Rages for Two Days Until Well Mouth Is Choked
by Steam

FRESNO, Jan. 12.—By piping steam to the well mouth from adjoining property, a great gas conflagration at well No. 2 of the Unity Oil company in the Coalinga field was extinguished today. The fire had raged furiously since late Sunday night. The loss will be approximately $5000. The derrick, rig, shops and well were badly damaged. The explosions which followed the striking of an unprecedented supply of natural gas at the 630-foot level were the most intense in the history of Coalinga. The fire raged for two days, the flames shooting 150 feet into the air. The steel sections, with which the boring is done, were blown up. These tools, weighing about two tons, were found buried seven or eight feet in the earth. The workmen escaped the explosions, the rumbling in the well and the throwing of a stream of water into the air proving a sufficient warning. The derrick and the town of Coalinga, like an earthquake.

WILL DECREASE SIZE OF THE HOUSE'S HALL

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Elliot Woods, superintendent of the Capitol at Washington, is in New York to discuss with architects here plans for remodeling the hall of the present capitol. "It has been determined to decrease the size of the hall," he said, "by about a third. This will involve practically the reconstruction of the house wing of the capitol from floor to roof." It has been decided, Mr. Woods said, that under the present arrangement, the congressmen are a far from the speaker and each other that the house is at times unwieldy.

THAT PALLID, ASHEN HUE

The forewarning of diseased kidneys' deadly work is in the gray pallor of your face—don't allow the kidneys to become deranged.

Day by day, there are people—men and women—gradually drifting along taking little heed of the first signs of diseased kidneys and bladder—until the time for a cure is past. There is then little to hope for. Few persons even faintly comprehend the exceedingly deadly character of Kidney and Bladder ailments. If they did they would in no case delay seeking a cure.

Such insistent signals of danger as those intermittent pains and "hitches" in the back, groin and limbs (or constant dragging pains in back), headaches, bloating of the extremities, nervousness, tired-out feeling, sleeplessness at night, etc.—should convince you that your system is charged with that deadliest of all systemic poisons—uric acid.

And uric acid in your system, surely means Kidney and Bladder disease—and, later, chronic rheumatism, inflammatory rheumatism, gravel and gallstones, dropsy, diabetes, serious nervous disorders, and Bright's Disease. You will readily see why you cannot afford to delay.

DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills

is made with a full knowledge of the great and permanent benefits which have quickly resulted from their use in multitudes of even the most distressing cases. We know just what they will do.

Helen Taft and Her Simple Tastes

Helen Taft is another girl closely observed in Washington who sets an admirable example of simplicity in dress and manner. Miss Taft never wears a brooch, bracelet or necklace, and her sole concession to the ordinary passion for jewelry is a brooch of pearls which she wears with her street or calling costumes, and a pretty little cluster of turquoises which her father gave her as a souvenir of the distinction she gained in Bryn Mawr. Like her mother, Miss Taft is partial to pink, and one of the most becoming costumes she has worn this winter is a coral-pink gown of soft satin, made semi-fitting princess, with a line of lace and passementeries coming straight down the front and panels of lace extending from the shoulders. She wears her soft, fair hair in a low knot with a pink rose as an ornament. Miss Taft's gowns usually are brightened with motifs of lace and pearl embroidery, for she has an unusually pretty collection of laces, most of which were picked up by Mrs. Taft in the course of her many tours abroad.

INTERPRETATIVE LECTURES.
A brilliant assemblage of society women and devotees of music filled Ebell Hall today to hear the first of the series of lectures by Miss Margaret Kemble on "Interpretative Studies in Modern Opera."

Miss Kemble's subject for this afternoon was Strauss' Elektra, and her talk was illustrated with selections from the opera. The subject was dealt with in a most interesting manner, the young speaker's charming personality going far to win her audience.

Miss Kemble has recently returned from Germany where she attended lectures of a like nature and spent much time in earnest study of the branch of music in which she excels.

She was the first to introduce the interpretative study of modern opera in this country and has made a niche that is her's exclusively in the bay cities.

A long list of society matrons have lent their patronage to the series of lectures, the second of which will be at Ebell hall tomorrow, the afternoon of February 3 and deal with "Ariane et Barbe Bleue," by Dukas.

WHAT ONE SHOULD KNOW BEFORE ONE Marries

Caruso and the Latest Picture of His Fiancee

Woman, the Mysterious, Is Always the Great Unknown

If it were possible to "know" the woman before marriage, many a heart-break would be saved. Like the proverbial bull in a china shop is a man when he first enters into a woman's life. If it were not for the love, which acts as an infallible at-tractor, the new men-ber would be in pieces at the end of the first fortnight. Of course women are aware that it is out of the question for man to know them in the limited time that is usually given to engagements; but the amusing part is that he does not try. He would not think of taking charge of a motor-car before he had learned to drive, but any and every day he lightly undertakes the management of a machine infinitely more complicated.

There are some things he can know, and some he can't, but in his eagerness to know, he knows them all. He thinks he knows! The first few weeks of married life are spent in recovering from this delusion.

WOMAN--THE MYSTERIOUS. The only drawback to knowledge before marriage is the possibility of no marriage. Man is good at taking risks, but he is particularly shy of certainty. And if he had the choice of knowing and not knowing he would probably choose the latter--the uncertainty is the spice of the thing to him.

With woman it is different. It is agony to live not to know; and if she thinks somebody else is going to know, she does not do it. She is a mystery to him, for her as vividly as he can each episode in his life. On his wife's knowledge of details his future happiness depends. A woman will forgive more before marriage than she will after. Before his love is a novelty, his confidence a trust which she is proud to have even though it pains her; afterward she feels she has been trapped, her confidence is shaken, suspicion is aroused, and she is never sure when the next revelation will come.

A man wants to treat a woman exactly as he would treat a man. Let him not do to her as he would have her do to him is a very safe guide for him. Woman should be the half of a certain amount of mystery. Only so can she hope to keep her husband's interest. Once let him know that he has got all there is to get and he will be on another quest; he wants "more woman."

MAN TAKES THE RISK. Now that is one of the things to know before marriage, for a woman is not apt to tell a man all she knows in the first days of courtship. Let her prolong the process, let him do the finding out, he will be long enough about it, and meanwhile she has him on a little bit of string. This follows a through. A secret may almost remain a secret until after marriage. By that time he has gained a pride of property--she is his wife--her strongest plea to clemency. Had he known before marriage--As it is the knot is tied and it takes a very great deal to make him break it. For all that woman thinks so much of the sacred relationship it is generally she who dissolves it.

Now, if a man takes a good deal of risk with his marriage, woman takes an equal amount on trust. She thinks because she loves him he must be all she imagines him to be. She builds an imaginary being, and then blames him that he bears no likeness to it. For her future peace of mind it is necessary for her to know with whom she has to deal. There is hope for her and for him if she takes him with open arms.

But a woman in love scouts the very idea of dissecting the man she is to marry; and if you suggested that she should bring his bachelor days into the light of day--

And yet if she were buying a horse or a dog the pedigree would be of importance. It is only the human animal which is accepted without question.

Of course, fathers and mothers see to blame. If they would put the veto on disease and drunkenness, the children of the one would die out and the others might reform.

Countess Tries Hard To Kidnap Pianist

LONDON.--A most remarkable story out into the street, and addressing the pianist's mother, asked that she might be allowed a few moments conversation with her son. Consent was no sooner given than the infatuated woman seized the young man by the shoulders, pinned him against the wall, passionately declared her great love for him and begged him to stop with her in her car, a large high-power one, which was waiting close by. After some struggling he was freed from the woman's embraces and hustled into a taxicab.

WOMAN GIVES CHASE. Jumping into her car, the woman gave chase, but thanks to the cab driver's intimate knowledge of London streets, he succeeded in eluding the pursuing car. It was past midnight when the scene outside Frascati's occurred, and it was witnessed by a large crowd.

A day or two later the young man, who is 21 years of age, was waiting outside the Alhambra for a friend, at whose house he intended to give a recital. He was astonished by the appearance of the countess' motor. An unsuccessful attempt was then made to kidnap him.

Mr. Steele, his mother's solicitor, is now anxious to secure witnesses of these two strange scenes. In the meantime all big engagements have been canceled. It is rumored that more than one lotter is in existence from the fair admirer, in which large sums are offered to some of the pianist's friends to assist in kidnapping him.

The club was founded and is maintained and managed by graduates of the Ely school. It now houses sixteen girls who are studying to become self-supporting and has a waiting list of nearly 100. Most Babies Human Culls, Says Woman

SPOKANE, Wash.--"There are already too many children in the world. What we want now is quality, not quantity. Parents should be taught the responsibility of bringing children into the world, then, when they have been taught that nine-tenths of the babies born every year is nothing more or less than human culls, I believe the birth rate will decrease and we shall have a better and stronger race."

This from Mrs. Helen L. Reine Baker, the richest woman in Spokane, also a frugal, reformer, philanthropist, humanitarian and apostle of brotherly love, known throughout the Northwest as "The Little Mother of Unfortunate Children."

Mrs. Baker is anything but conventional. She is young and attractive, is highly educated and widely traveled and has plenty of money to gratify every whim. She looks upon Thomas Paine as her patron saint and believes Bernard Shaw, Elbert Hubbard, Moses Harmon and Luther Burbank as the four greatest men in the world.

"Eugenics is the technical term for the work I am engaged in," said she. "It relates to the propagation of mankind, teaching children the right way of living. You cannot mould character after the child is twenty years old."

"My studies of children all over the world have convinced me that not more than 10 per cent of them are children of love. The other 90 per cent are not."

DEAF AND BLIND AID EACH OTHER ON LONG JOURNEY

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—A blind man, using his power of speech for a deaf mute, and the latter in turn supplementing the senses of his companion by doing the seeing for him, constituted a strange pair who made a cross-country journey together, the blind man arriving in this city late last night. His name is Hans Borg and he lost his sight in a premature dynamite blast while working for the Western Pacific at Otaville. He left afterwards to Buffalo from which place he was sent here in company with the deaf mute to go to the Miles-Taylor sanitarium. While en route the mute wrote his conversation and other passengers were called upon to read it to the blind man. The pair separated at Sacramento and last night when Borg arrived at the ferry he sought out a policeman who took him to the Central Emergency Hospital. Touching Eulogy Delivered at Funeral Of F. H. Jermyn by Samuel M. Shortridge

DEAD HORSEMAN WAS OF NOBLE CHARACTER

Attorney Reviews the Life of
Frank H. Jermyn, a True
Friend

INFLUENCE WILL LIVE
IN HEARTS OF FRIENDS

Samuel M. Shortridge Pays
Last Tribute to Departed
Capitalist

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—A week ago the funeral of Frank H. Jermyn, a Pennsylvania capitalist and well-known horseman and until recently the owner for a number of years of the Pleasanton stock farm took place in this city. Jermyn died at the Acker Sanitarium two days before as the result of injuries received by being struck by a street car at the junction of Third and Market streets at an early hour on New Year's morning. An autopsy held by Surgeon J. R. Clark and Drs. Wallace J. Terry and Beverly MacMonagie showed that the unfortunate man's spine had been completely fractured and the chest wall had been crushed and the lungs lacerated.

At the funeral services which were held before shipping the body East Samuel M. Shortridge, a warm personal friend of the deceased delivered a touching and eloquent eulogy.

PURCHASED STOCK FARM.
Jermyn's first winter visit to California occurred nearly twenty years ago. He was fascinated with the climate and made regular trips to San Francisco thereafter. Being a fancier of light harness horses he bought the Pleasanton Stock Farm where he bred fine horses for a number of years. He was a lover of racing for the sport and though he frequently started it was never in his own name. Recently he disposed of the Pleasanton property. He was a son of John Jermyn who made a fortune in the anthracite fields of Pennsylvania, and was born in the town of Jermyn not far from Scranton. There are four brothers—Walter, Edward, Rolfe and Joseph—a sister, and one daughter now studying music in Europe.

DELIVERS EULOGY
Samuel M. Shortridge delivered the following eulogy:

All the tears and the agony and the anguish and the pain of life are over and past and gone with the dear friend who sleeps here. The peace of his rest rests upon his brow. That hand which was extended in loyalty and friendship rests upon his breast. Those lips that were never profaned by an oath are silent and those eyes which beamed in love and fraternity upon you all and upon all men and women who knew him, they are lustreless and closed, but he is not dead. My friends the thing we call life, the little journey from the cradle to the grave the little daylight between morning and dusk is not all of our existence. Oh, it cannot be so the heart cries out against it, the mind, the judgment of man protests against it, the voice of God speaking through revelation proclaims that it is not so.

LIVES IN HEARTS
It is not all of life to live, nor all of death to die there is a heavenly immortality there is an earthly immortality the man who lives in the hearts of his friends does not die. Will this good man who sleeps here die? Is he dead to you? Will he not live in your minds, in your memories, and in your hearts so long as God gives it to you to live? Will his life his being his individuality perish? No the man who in this little transitory journey called life has by his words his acts welded into him in friendship good men, good women and true such a man does not die but has earned an earthly immortality.

I am very sure that if I were gifted with the tongues of angels I would fail to express the deep emotion, the sincere sorrow of many friends who are gathered here.

LOVED BY ALL
The most beautiful thing in this world is the love of man for man. The sexless love of man for man, when one good true man loves another good, true brave man that is the most beautiful thing on this earth, and I know that our friend who sleeps here had the love of good strong men in this our city and State and scattered all over this country. He was a true man, he was a brave man, he was also a gentle man, there was nothing domineering or cruel or tyrannical in his nature. Those who knew him best loved him most. Those who knew him longest clung to him the closer. Love is the greatest thing in this world and he had the love of good men and good women. He was a kindly man. Was it not so, you who knew him well?

THE LATE F. H. JERMYN.

GOOD, TRUE MAN
"I think I may say with perfect truth that he was a good true man. What higher praise can be bestowed? As a member of a great ancient, benevolent honorable order he ever displayed the true principles of fraternity and brotherly love. That great organization which was great and useful before ever modern Europe lifted its art and civilization and which today flourishes in all the civilized world he was a worthy member of, and of that great modern order to which many of you belong, which teaches charity and fraternity and brotherly love, loyalty, patriotism everything that is good and grand and worthy in this world—the E. K. S. he belonged. To other orders which teach sobriety and charity and kindness and manliness among men he was a member and if the record of his life from the time he entered upon man's estate down to this moment were spread before us there would be found no page of that life history with a blot upon it."

LASTING FRIENDSHIPS.
Words cannot express your love nor the friendship of those who knew, trusted and believed in him. His worldly interests may be said to have been planted or rooted in another State in Pennsylvania, but coming here to our dear State of California some eight or nine years ago he made friendships which were lasting and he became endeared to California and if his heart recognized two loves it was Pennsylvania and California.

Worthy man worthy citizen, he acted his part well and he sleeps in peace. He cannot hear these poor words of mine. No praise of mine can reach his ear but it is a pleasure to us a sad pleasure to join here, one with the other, in paying this tribute to his worth and to his memory. Oh, my friends many of whom I know so well happy would it be for you and for me if after our little journey is run we may sleep as he does surrounded by such friends as gather here. Ah, we put no pockets in our shrouds. All the worldly possessions, all the wealth of the Indies, all the diamonds that ever flickered and sparkled from the brow of beauty, all the wealth in the world what is it to us in the hour of death it all is left behind, and the only thing that is precious, imperishable, is the memory of dear friends we leave behind.

SAY "ADIEU"
Now our friends is gone from us, reverently we gather here we listen to the voice of hope, we listen to the voice of religion, but our own hearts proclaim that this is not all. His body the tabernacle the house of the soul tenement will be carried back to the old home, and there other friends will express their love but no voice there will be more sincere than that which echoes here. We do not say farewell to him. I do not say Farewell but simply "Adieu." There is another morning there on the eternal shore, where that you and I will so live and so die that we may meet our friend there on the eternal shore, where to say adieu to you may he rest in death—in the eternal home there to meet him to greet him. Therefore let us not now say "Farewell" to him. I esteem it a sad privilege thus to have attempted to voice the sorrow of the many friends gathered here to bid adieu to the dear friend who so suddenly so unexpectedly was obliged to say adieu to you. May he rest in peace until the great trumpet and the bright and eternal morn."

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12.—"Taft is greater than Roosevelt. He proved that by ousting Pinchot. We will be mining coal in less than a year on the claims which Glavis and Pinchot declared were fraudulent."

DOCTOR MIXED IN RESTAURANT ROW

Argument Over Fried Potatoes Results in a General Melee

SAN FRANCISCO Jan. 12.—Martin Tronrich, a cook in Martin's restaurant 1224 Golden Gate avenue, had his left wrist badly cut, and Frank Hansen, a waiter in the same place, and Dr. A. West, a local physician, were the active parties in a mixup caused by a misinterpretation of a dinner order late last night. Dr. West was unable to make Hansen understand that he wanted French fried potatoes and the waiter became so incensed at him that, notwithstanding the fact that he summoned Tronrich to interpret the order, he secured a club and made in the direction of the physician.

Meantime Tronrich and Dr. West had become involved in an argument and Hansen broke a window with his club. The doctor thrust his hand against the jagged pane, saving an artery. The atmosphere had somewhat cleared by the time Policeman Fred Norwood arrived on the scene, and he conveyed the injured Hansen to the Central Emergency hospital.

LAY OUT ROUTE FOR A NEW LINE

Arbuckle and Colusa Will Be Connected by a Railroad Soon

COLUSA, Jan. 12.—A crew of survivors in the employ of the Southern Pacific is making headquarters here while laying out a route for a railroad that will run from Arbuckle to Colusa. Princeton, Glenn, Jacinto, St. John and Hamilton City, connecting at the latter place with the present branch line from Wood near Orland. The survey north from here has been completed and keeps one-half mile to the west of Colusa. Another surveying crew has been working across the country from Arbuckle and will meet the work of the crew stationed here this week.

This railroad will traverse a country that has depended upon river transportation and will reach the valley project of Kahn, brother of Pittsburgh in Colusa and Glenn counties where 20,000 acres of irrigated lands are being subdivided. It will also include the best crop of thousands of acres planted by and for the Sacramento Valley Sugar Company, valued at $1,000,000 plant at Hamilton City. The Northern Electric Railway has long planned to build this road but the Southern Pacific apparently intends to be first in the field.
